A Passion for Music:

The first live broadcast from the Berliner Philharmoniker's 'Digital Concert Hall'

Berlin / Frankfurt am Main, 6 January 2009 – This Tuesday, at 8 p.m. (CET) will see the first live broadcast of a concert by the Berliner Philharmoniker from their new internet platform, the Digital Concert Hall. This project, unique in the classical music world, would not have been possible without the support of Deutsche Bank, which has sponsored the Berliner Philharmoniker since 2002 and is now also the exclusive sponsor of the new Digital Concert Hall.

Under the direction of their Principal Conductor Sir Simon Rattle, the Berliner Philharmoniker will be giving a special concert this evening of Dvořák's G minor Slavonic Dance and Brahms's First Symphony. Sir Simon and guests will also be talking about the concept and function of the Digital Concert Hall.

The Digital Concert Hall is an unprecedented undertaking in the world of classical music. For the very first time it will be possible to follow a great orchestra's entire concert season on the internet, in first-rate sound and picture quality.
